Cartoon time

1. Around Christmas. You can tell because Santa is being discussed and his picture appears on the bedtime story book cover.
2. People often discuss on social media things they have been doing, or what they think or feel about other people or events.
3. What social media users feel about other people finding out about them is a matter of opinion. What people can do is mark social media posts as "private" or "friends only", and make their personal information private. Netsafe (<https://netsafe.org.nz/>) has “A guide to social media settings” that has information about this.
